THE CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN PAUNCEFOTE AND SALISBURY.

The British Ambassador Shown to Haye Been Writing Up "Poli-ticians" — Senator Morgan De-clared to Have the Wrong Idea

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The British Embassy today received from the Foreign Office the full correspondence respecting claims for compensation on account of British vessels seized in Bering Sea by United States cruisers. Hrief cable extracts from the report have appeared, but the full correspondence is full of interest, as it brings out the spirit with which Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, answered the criticisms of Senator Morgan. In informing Lord Kimberly that the House of Representatives had defeated the measure for the payment of the claim, Sir Julian wrote:

"Strong party feeling would seem alone to count for the rejection of so just and desirable an arrangement, and, as Your Lordship will have noticed, the inclosures in my dispatch have been made in Congress which are entirely misleading, both as to the law and the facts of the case. It is urged that the present claims are principally made out of 'indirect damages because they include in some cases the loss of profits of fishery seal only by sealing vessels warned out of Bering Sea.

"Again, it is pretended that a great majority of the sealing vessels on behalf of which the claims were made were the property of United States citizens, whereas there is no evidence whatever of any change of ownership in those vessels, which all carried the (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT) were the property of United States cit-izens, whereas there is no evidence whatever of any change of ownership in those vessels, which all carried the British flag and a British register. One speaker represented the total amount of the claims to be only $542,000, whereas it was over $700,000. Another concluded from the fact that the offer of the lump sum and its acceptance appeared in notes of the same date that the offer was made without previous investiga-tion, and was instantly 'snapped at' by Her Majesty's government, whereas the compromise recorded in those notes tion, and was instantly 'snapped at' by Her Majesty's government, whereas the compromise recorded in those notes was the result of laborious negotiations which were carried on during the whole summer, there can be no doubt that these inaccuracies were calculated to prejudice the minds of many members of Congress, and also to turn public opinion against the settlement of the question which was both equitable and advantageous to both parties."

On March 15 Sir Julian wrote an elaborate answer to Senator Morgan's criticisms on the claims. After answering one after another of the Senator's statements he said:

one after another of the Senator's statements he said:

"The vituperative epithets used were quite unmerited and I will proceed to show that the objection in question is not well-founded in fact and apparently is based on a mistaken view of the British navigation laws."

After quoting the British shipping laws Sir Julian proceeds: "Why should an American citizen be called a rasca!? What law has he violated by advancing money for the prosecution of a lawful Canadian industry carried on by Canadians in Canadian vessels? In what respect has the United States government been robbed, considering that it has no property in the fur seal, as was solemnly adjudged and declared by the Tribunal of Arbitration of Paris? These are questions which I submit can only be reasonably answered in a sense absolutely fatal to Senator Morgan's contentions."

absolutely fatal to Senator Morgan's contentions."

Lord Salisbury, in ackhowledging the communications from Washington, wrote: "I need scarcely say the arguments which the United States bring forward in support of the validity of those claims have the entire approval and concurrence of Her Majesty's government. The attempt made by Senator Morgan to dispute them seems to be largely founded on misapprehension and Her Majesty's government cannot doubt that when the full facts are before the public in the United States the liability of that country to make compensation which has never been denied by the government will be generally recognized both in and out of Congress."

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) KANSAS CITY (Mo.,) Nov. 25.—A special to the Times from Jefferson City, Mo., says that the United States Minister to Turkey was vigorously de-nounced from the pulpit of the First Baptist Church in that city by Rev. J. T. Johnston, who has just returned from a three-months' trip abroad, seven weeks of which were spent in the Holy Land and the Ottoman Empire. It was in a graphic statement of the deplorable ondition of the Christians in the Sultain's domain that Rev. Johnston alluded to Minister Terrell.

"He is a traitor," said the preacher,

"to his God, his country and himself. He ought to be hanged. He has been bribed by the Sultan, who decorated his wife and daughter, and presented him with a stallion. Our consuls are all right, but they are powerless. England's Minister to that country is all right. Our entire party, thirty-four in number, signed a petition to President Cleveland immediately on our arrival in New York, asking for Terrell's removal. I hope the papers all over the land will herald to the world his shame. I did not believe the stories I heard of Terrell before I reached Turkey, but I found them only too true."

Rev. Johnston concluded his remarks by saying that no idea of the terrible situation in Armenia is to be gained through newspaper reports, as all the news is suppressed by the Sultan's

Johnston, D.D., paster of the First Baptist Church of that city, has just returned from a three months' tour of Turkey and the Holy Land. Last night in a sermon on the Armenian troubles he made the statement that American Minister Terrell ought to be hanged. He declares the Minister to Turkey has joined the Mohammedan church, and is thus aiding in persecuting and killing Christians, instead of protecting them; that the situation is far worse than reported to the papers, and that Terrell sends out false reports. Rev. Johnston and his party of thirty-four members have signed a petition to President Cleveland to remove Terrell.

MORE SQUABBLING.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 24, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 25.—(By Atlantic Cable.) There is no doubt that efforts are being made to maintain order in the districts where disturbances are threatened and to suppress disorders where outbreaks have occurred. All go danger is now passed, however. The Governor of Haddin, who threatened to burn a convent there and set fire to the barley-fields, has, owing to the strong representations made to the Porte or the subject by Mr. Terrell, been re

The main question now being discussed between the Porte and the rep resentatives of the powers is the de mand of Great Britain, Italy, Russia and Austria for firmans for passage through the Dardanelles of an extra gunboat to be attached to their re ective embassies. While admitting have two guardships each in the Bosphorus, the Porte considers that the proposed increase of the number of foreign war-vessels there under the present conditions might excite the Mussulmans and produce an effect quite different from the one desired by the powers. In addition, the Porte points out that, in view of the measures taken to preserve order there, the increase in the number of guardships attached to the embassies is not required.

It can be said upon good authority that this is the substance of a note the Porte has sent to the representatives of that this is the substance of a note the Porte has sent to the representatives of the powers. As soon as the note shall be received and considered at the British, Russian, Italian and Austrian embassies, a conference of the representatives of those powers will be called and a joint reply may be sent to the Porte. The Turkish representatives at London, St. Petersburgh, Rome and Vienna will be instructed to earnestly request the four powers not to insist upon their demand. In political circies the repugnance of the Porte to grant the firmans applied for is attributed to the belief, said to exist among Turkish Ministers and Abdul Hamid's entourage, that to grant the firmans would be a direct blow to the dignity of the Sultan and a proof of lack of confidence on the part of the powers in his ability to govern and maintain order. Behind this, it is claimed, lurks the fear upon the part of the Sultan that the demand in this increase of the number of foreign guardships in the Bosphorus is really only a cloak for the powers to make a naval demonstration in Turkish waters in case of renewed disturbances in Asiatic Turkey.

The Harinik, the local newspaper, suppressed last week because its editor refused to publish an article sent him by the Turkish authorities condemning the "intrigues of Armenians," has been granted permission to resume publication. The absence of news from Zeitoun, where the Armenians are collecting in strong force and the failure of the government to furnish any information regarding the concentration of Turkish troops at Marash for an advance on Zeitoun, are causing some uncasiness. Besides, no news is obtainable concerning the rising of the Druses against Turkish rule, one of the most serious features of the whole situation. The financial situation continues to hamper the government in its efforts to restore order in Asiatic Turkey, and there does not seem to be any sign of relief. Rev. J. T. Johnston Denounces

Charles S. Sanders, Mrs. A. M. Trowbridge, Miss Ellen M. Prye and Miss Elizabeth M. Trowbridge, and the English governess, Miss McDonaid. The missionaries add that full protection was afforded them by the Turkish authorities when demanded from the Porte by Terrell. The latter now is satisfield that the 172 missionaries in Anatolia are safe. The situation here is still grave and more complicated.

Wyoming is again to be hunted over for elk, deer and moose, to re-stock the Scottish Highland pre-serves owned by wealthy Britishers. Col. William Root of this place has received an order from the old country and in a few days will take the field with the purpose in view of capturing the animals and preparing them for shipment. It will be remembered that a shipment of Wyoming game was made several years ago, at which time a great hubbub was raised all over the country against the methods of stocking English preserves at the exp Americans. The game to fill the latest order will, in all probability, come from the northern part of Wyoming, which is sparsely populated, and in which the kings of the mountain forests abound.

The police raided the houses of Socialist members of the Reichstag and Socialist members of the Reichstag and other leaders of the Socialist party today. All their letters and papers were impounded and taken to the office of the Chief of Police. It is reported that the action of the authorities is based, upon some infringement of the Prussian law on the right of association. The houses of 104 Socialists were searched and in fifty-four of them documents and papers were seized. Among the residences in which the police obtained documents were those of Herr Singer and Herr Babel. Similar raids were made at Breslau, Cologne and other cities.

n Behalf of San Francisco-Breckinridge to Make a Race in Kentucky. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 .- Ex-Speaker Reed arrived here today. His selection to the Speakership of the next House is generally conceded. It is not anticipated that the Republicans will organize the Senate until the two Senators arrive from Utah.

The prospect now is that the reorgan-mation of the two Houses of Congress will be the uppermost question in Con-gressional circles. The fact that the speakership is universally conceded to Mr. Reed has had the effect of conthe general concern over the result. Henderson and Mr. McDowell are arr. Henderson and Mr. McDowell are still the only candidates for the House clerkship, and it is not believed that any dark-horse candidates will develop between this time and next Saturday, when the House caucus will be held. The Southern Republicaris have announced their intention of caucusing Wednesday for the purpose of deolding on candidates they will support. There are twenty-three Southern members, not including those from Missouri.

Opinions are decidedly at variance as to the Republican Senators with reference to the reorganization of the Senate, and nothing definite will be known on that score until after the convening. Senator Sherman, who, was chairman of the Republican caucus, expressed the opinion today that the Republicans would hold a conference carly in the session for the condideration of this question.

The majority of Republican Senators here appear to advocate an effort at organization on Republican lines, but some of the more conservative of them oppose a movement in this direction, contending that it would be impolite to assume control of affairs and take charge of the committees without having a working majority in the Senate. Some Republican Senators who favor organization advance the idea that the Democratic Senators here do not confirm this view, and the indications are that they will hold the offices until the Republicans is advocating the maintenance of an independent position, and it is considered probable that this satvice will be followed. The Republicans however, claim they will secure Senator Peffer, who is generally regarded as the leader of the Populist, votes. Senator Peffer, who is generally regarded as the leader of the Populist, is advocating the maintenance of an independent position, and it is considered probable that this satvice will be followed. The Republicans however, claim they will secure Senator Stewart's vote and that Senator Jones will probably stand with them. THE SAN FRANCISCO CAMPAIGN. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. — Gen. Friedrichs of the delegation appointed to attend the meeting of the National Republican Committee in Washington will leave for Washington tonight. He goes to Utah and Wyoming. In Utah he expects to enlist the good-will and co-operacion of Col. Trumbo, and in both Utah and Wyoming the effort and energy of the national committeemen.

From Utah and Wyoming Gen. Fried-richs will go direct to Kentucky. This is his native State, and he has many warm political and personal friends there. Among them is Governor-elect Bradley, who is also the Republican national committeeman from that State. Gov. Bradley has on several occasions expressed himself very kindly toward San Francisco. It is reported that he is not absolutely bound by pledges to some other city, and it is hoped to secure not only his vote, but his efforts for this city. lican Committee in Washingto hoped to secure not only his vote, but his efforts for this city.

Whatever else he accomplishes in Kentucky, Gen. Friedrichs expects to get a pretty thorough knowledge of the situation among Southern committeemen, to learn what influences have affected them, if they are disposed to favor some other city than San Francisco, and generally to learn whatever is to be learned there that is of benefit to the delegation in its work.

It will depend somewhat on the character of the information he receives in Washington whether Gen. Friedrich goes direct to Washington and New York, or to Virginia, and perhaps to one or two other Southern States. At any rate, he will be in Washington a day or two before the National Committee meets. By that time the other members of the description of the receiver of the members of the description.

one or two other Southern States. At any rate, he will be in Washington a day or two before the National Committee meets. By that time the other members of the delegation will have arrived there, and vigorous work will be in progress. It is not expected that the delegation, or any considerable part of it, will go in a body. It is intended that each individual shall start as the convenience of his business will permit, but that all will be in Washington as soon as material to work on begins to arrive there.

The Executive Committee of the conventon organization will probably meet tomorrow. One very important matter it must fully decide is, just what it will authorize the Washington delegation to promise in behalf of San Francisco.

There are quite a number of elements to be considered. In the first place there is the question of what this city will do in paying the left-over debt of the national committee does not in express terms say the payment of this is a condition precedent to-be compiled with by any city that gets the convention, but it is generally understood that the convention city must pay it and of course San Francisco expects to if she gets the convention.

Then there will be the expenses of the convention to pay. This is no slight matter, although it is considered that the sale of seats in the convention half will much more than do this. At former conventions the sales of seats in the convention half have paid the expenses of the last half-dozen national conventions, at least.

The national committee will want some assurances of a suitable place in which the convention can be held. In this respect there will be no trouble. The Mechanics Paylillon, it has generally been assumed will be the place where the convention would be held if it came to San Francisco. This, no donbt, could casily be made into an admirable place for such a gathering. But it is not by any means a certain thing that it would be held there. Chairman Easton said there were several plans afoot for the convention, These plans are all on a basis which would not draw heavily on the convention funds of the committee, A statement is being formulated in regard to the telegraphic facilities of San Francisco, which will doubtiess show clearly that they are equal to any demands that may be made upon them.

SENATOR THURSTON'S VIEWS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Senator Thurston of Nebraska is at the Fifth-avenue Hotel. In an interview today he said: "The Republicans are for McKinley as the next Presidential candidate first, last and all the time. The strength of the Ohio man in the West comes from the fact that the working people believe in him. They know that under the McKinley law they were getting more pay than they are getting now. Business was, generally speaking, better. They are satisfied that McKinley had something to do with this, and they wish to vote for him for President."

and they wish to vote for him for President."

"Do you think the Republicans will be able to reorganize the United States Senate at the coming session?"

"Yes," he replied, "I believe we will be strong enough to assume control. I have been in Washington for a week and can say that at the opening of the Senate the Republicans will start in and reorganize that body. I believe that all the Populist members of the Senate will vote with the Republicans. That, at least, is the understanding among the leaders now, and I do not think that anything will turn up to change the programme."

on Red River. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) PARIS (Tex..) Nov. 25.—The Federal officers last night received a telegram from Arthur City, I. T., stating that a boat was found adrift on Red River, near that point, unmanned and without a pilot. A man lay upon the deck with his head almost severed from his body, and there were indications of a terrible fight. Owing to the rapid current and a dog who was famished to desperation and showed signs of fight, the boat could not be boarded. Points lower down the river were notified and the boat will be stopped.

For several days the boat had been observed anchored without a human being in sight. Several citizens concluded to investigate, and the corpses of the three men and boy were all found lying in bed undressed. A ferocious dog prevented the parties from entering for a time, but was finally overcome.

The victims had evidently been dead several days. One of them met death by his skull being crushed. The men's clothing was scattered about, showing robbery as the motive. One was a large man, aged about 45. Papers under his head indicated that his name was E. C. Carrody and that he was the owner of the outfit. The boy was about 12 years old, evidently the son of Carrody.

Another was identified by citizens of Chicola as Henry T. Rice, who had been a music teacher. He was about 28 or 30 years old. The other was 38 or 40 years of age, with a beard of about two weeks' growth and's mustache. The party were trappers, fisheremen and gamblers, and had a full outfit with them and a good store of provisions. I don't know why I did it. Father and I were quarreling. He was going after me for staying away from home and McKercher sided in with him in abusing me. Father had always treated me mean and I had worked hard all my life. He asked me where I had been and I told him I had been hunting. Then he slapped me and told me to go and cut some wood. I was so angered that I rushed into the house, got the rifle and came out at the kitchen door and began shooting at father and McKercher. They were standing and talking by the fence and mother was standing near. I shot father first and then shot at McKercher, but missed him. The response to Gov. Holcomb's welcoming address by L. Bradford Prince of New Mexico was a feature of the closing of the afternoon session. The speaker spoke eloquently of the diversity of the country, which extended from the level prairies to the foothills of the mountains filled with their vast mineral wealth. Ex-Gov. "Cultivation and Uses of Ramie" was the first subject under discussion this afternoon. Prof. Waterhouse of St. Louis was the chief speaker. Hugh Craig of San Francisco discussed American shipping. This concluded the afternoon session. From 6 to 7:30 o'clock a public reception was tendered the delegates at the City Hall.

When the evening session of the body opened with the discussion of statehood for the Territories by ex-Gov. OROVILLE, Nov. 25.—(Special Dispatch.) For many years the Wells-Fargo Express carried treasure from the mines about La Porte, Port Wine, Howland Flat, Gibsonville, Scales and Expressions.

Forbestown. A great deal of gold was shipped over the route from La Porte to Oroville, and F. N. Morse, the vet-eran driver, was robbed over twenty times. The company lost so much money that at last they withdrew from the route. A few years ago, at the so-licitation of W. W. Stow, express mat-ter was again carried between Oroville and La Porte. Martin Myers, some months ago, tried to rob this stage, and then nothing of a startling nature has occurred until this morning.

The stage leaves Oroville between 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning, and it is so dark that side-lights are used on the vehicle. This enabled the highwaymen to locate the stage while they remained en. Gus Berg, one of the owners, was driving a spirited team, and James McGuffin, a young schoolteacher of Wyandotte, occupied the front seat. In of the coach were two ladies and F. H. McDonald, the electrician. When the stage was three miles east of Oro-ville, a voice from the roadside shouted: "Hold up!" The tones were sharp and they became frightened and ran at the top of their speed up hill. The shots flew thick and fast, but luckily no one

When at last the team was checked, the robbers were some distance in the rear, and the plucky young teacher said: "If we run for it they can't catch now." Berg took the hint, gave a ell to his team and piled the whip ght and left. In vain the robbers couted, "Halt! halt!" and renewed the firing. It was too dark to take good alm, and the horses were on their met-tle and tore uphill at frightful speed. After a long run, the summit was gained and the stage proceeded on to Wyandotte, three miles from the scene

It was too dark to see the robbers, so the officers had but a slight clew to work by. Four young men from Wy-andotte, who came to Oroville on Sunday evening to witness the exercises of the Salvation Army, returned home late, and, near the scene of the robbery, saw a campfire. This morning, after daylight, the spot was examined and daylight, the spot was examined and buggy-tracks were seen where men had been camped for the night. It is curious that Mrs. F. N. Morse, widow of the driver, who had been robbed so often, was a passenger on the stage this morning. The paymaster of the Denver mine expected to be a passenger on the coach today, but he was detained. It was he whom the robbers were after.

He was afterward allowed to see his wife who is dying at the receiving hospital. He begged her to say that the shooting was an accident and the loyal wife made a dying statement to that effect. Rev. Boyard Scores the California

Rev. Bovard Scores the California
Custom of Drinking Wine.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Rev. F.
D. Bovard of the Park-street Methodist Church of Alameda last night preached a sermon on "Wine-drinking, and the Social Status of Those Who Drink Wine," in which he took occasion to refer to the now celebrated punchbowl episode, and the Kate Field reception. He said in the course of his sermon that wine-drinking was the great curse of the State of California. He condemned the Viticultural Commission, and also ex-President Harrison, who drank wine at a reception given him in San Francisco.

"Wine-drinking," said he in beginning his sermon, "is a menace to ali civilized countries, and the only thing that will kill it is to make it a crime in good society."

The California Viticultural Commission came in for a scorching. Dr. Bovard referred to the exhibit at the World's Fair with a pyramid of wine and a typical California girl standing on top holding a wine-cup in her hand.
He said he would provide a fitting emblem for the top of the monument in the figures of a drunken father and a neglected wife. He charged the Viticultural Commission with putting in the whole exhibit werely to maintain the social prestige of wine-drinking, and stated that he believed thousands of young men and women were led to the first steps on the downward path by the exhibit.

The next person who came under his wrath was ex-President Harrison. Bovard gave a graphic description of the the first steps on the downward path by the exhibit.

The next person who came under his wrath was ex-President Harrison. Bovard gave a graphic description of the Harrison banquet in San Francisco, and declared that the indorsement which the wine industry received when the President drank California when in sight of a large crowd made glad the heart of every saloon man in California. He referred to Kate Field several times in his sermon, although he did not call her by name. He said:

"The wine men have done everything possible to introduce their wine into society. They have obtained a brilliant woman to introduce their goods in the East. She must be denounced at any cost, and driven from society, or the winecup. She stands a hollow-hearted sham, of no more use to the true wo-

He also referred to the reception at the Press Club, and said he did not want to condemn the innocent little maids in white aprons from the Women's Exchange who innocently did honor to the only woman in America who publicly advocated wine-drinking, but he did wish to condemn her most decidedly. He called the Viticultural Commissions an outrage on the honest people of the State, and said the commissioners were mitred priests in a bacchanalian temple, where men and women were led to destruction, although he disclaimed any intention to discredit their personal characters. He also said that the commission was a fraud, and that the whole appropriation for the commission was a fraud, and that the whole appropriation for the commission and for the aid of the wine business was an imposition. He charged the wine men with defrauding the workingmen of the State for the benefit of a foreign industry. Their influence was destroying Northern and Central California, according to Rev. Bovard, and the only truly flourishing towns in the State were Pasadena and other prohibition towns in Southern California. It was not the climate, but the higher social atmosphere that made these towns a success.

Over twelve hundred bodies are to be removed from the Hebrew Cemetery of Gibroth Claim on Dolores street to the Home of Peace Cemetery, San Mateo county. When removing the coffins the great weight of the contents caused the coffins to break, disclosing bodies petrified to the color of marble and looking like solid stone. So far eight petrified bodies have been found, all perfect in petrifaction. One coffin contained a mother and babe. The child was on the mother's breast, their bodies defying decay and so perfectly were they petrified that the curves on the infant's hands were perfectly reproduced. The corpses looked like the finest specimens of the sculptor's art.

It is supposed the presence of some mineral in the clay has caused the remarkable transformation. Although the cemetery has been used since 1849, the petrified bodies thus far found have only been interred from nine to twenty-five years. The mother and babe were buried ten years ago.

counterfeiting, C. B. Murray went on the stand after Assistant United States Attorney Knight had outlined to the Jury what the new witnesses would tell. Murray first met Howell in Modesto, when the latter conducted a grocery store in that town. That was in 1887, when Murray was making money and living a guileless life, growing wheat and running a hotel and saloon in the prosperous Stanislaus wheat belt. In 1891 Murray came to San Francisco, opened up a saloon on Fourth street, and fell into evil ways and the acquaintance of Fred Marsh and Arbatti. Marsh, who was a gambler, proposed to Murray various schemes of making money without hard work, among them passing counterfeit money. Murray, on Marsh's agreement, to pass the bills, purchased forty 35 bills or Arbatti, and the two made a tour of the Fourthstreet saloons and got rid of thirty-seven of these bills in one night. It was a profitable might's work, and the following day Murray conceived the idea of going to Stockton and letting loose a few bad dollars. As a "flyer" he took with him $45 in homemade bills and silver dollars.

At Dave Williams's "T" saloon on Weber avenue, Stockton, he ran up against Howell, so Murray told the jury, and sold the stuff to the Stockton man for 50 cents on the dollars. "Afterward we went across to another saloon to test the dollars. Howell bought two beers with one of the dollars and got 90 cents back. That night Howell invited me and a couple of friends to the Cosmopolitan restaurant for supper. For payment he tendered two more of the dollars and the proprietor refused them.

"Later, about March 12, Murray borrowed $60 of Howell to make a payment on his Fourth-street saloon. When the time came to square up Howell told me to pay the money to Marsh as he had already made arrasgements to buy about $200 worth of the bills from Marsh. Later on Marsh shipped Howell about $200 of this money in a cigar-box to Stockton."

On cross-examination Attorney Campbell made Murray go over the history of his life and the circumstances connected with his conviction. It transpired that during his term of residence at the County Jail Murray had at one time proposed to Howell if the latter would furnish him money for defense purposes to go back on the "cigar-box part of the story," saying it was shipped to somebody in Stockton by the name of Jones, who was supposed to be employed in Howell's office.

Modesto Judge Decides a Highly Important Case. GULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

MODESTO, Nov. 25.—Judge Minor handed down a decision today in the case of O. McHenry, president of the National Bank of Modesto, et al. vs. W. A. Downer, Tax Collector of Stanislaus county, which is of interest to all national banks in California.

Mrs. Gottliebson never knew she had a long-lost eister.

During the evening Mrs. Young fell into a trance. She held a large bouquet of flowers in her hand, and depended on the fragrance of the blosoms to attract the spirits. She was eminently successful. As she lay in an apparently lifeless condition, the spirits flitted about her bunch of flowers and gave her messages to people in the audience. Suddenly she became greatly agitated.

"Pico, Pico," she said. Mrs. Gottall national banks in California.

Assessor J. F. Campbell assessed the shares of the Modesto National Bank and made a double assessment on account of the shares not having been assessed before. The decision covers eighteen pages of manuscript. Judge Minor holds that the assessment is valid. The question in this case is whether or not the owner of shares in national banks can be compelled to oay taxes to the State on such shares. The decision is very exhaustive, and many authorities and sections of acts of Congress and State Legislatures are cited. The decision concludes as follows: agitated.
"Pico, Pico," she said. Mrs. Gottliebson arose and said the message was evidently intended for her, as she was the daughter of ex-Gov. Pico.
"It is the spirit of Andre Pico who speaks," said the medium. "He was are cited. The decision concludes as follows:

"A large portion of the capital of the State is invested in shares of stock of national banks, and there is probably no mode of investment so profitable. Property of all other corporations and individuals bears a burden of taxation. The Legislature expressly declares that stock shall be taxed, the act of Congress permits it, and the revenue laws of the State were framed for the purpose of reaching property of every description, and I do not believe that the Legislature of this State has been so powerful for evil and futile for good as to overthrow a plain provision of organic law and at the same time defeat the object it started out to accomplish in the enactment of a revenue law, namely, imposition of burdens of government upon all property alike. In my opinion the season of the state, and all he banks contributed to fighting the case. The case was a test case for all the banks. The case will be appealed.

FRESNO, Nov. 25.—It now transpires that the bond furnished by the defaulting deputy clerk, Clark Wood, in a commissioner case in which he embezzled a portion of the money intrusted to him, is worthless, for the reason that the bondsmen did not qualify.
Deputy Clerk W. R. Williams is responsible, in part, at least, for the acceptance of the bond, as he issued the bond in regular form, which led the judge to believe that the bondsmen had been duly qualified. It now looks as though Wood had given a worthless bond with the intention of embezzling at No. 107 Hayes street about ten years ago.

Police Judge Lowe issued a search warrant on the strength of the woman's story, empowering the police to recover the body of Andre Pico, her brother, who, she says, was murdered and buried in the cellar of the building at No. 107 Hayes street about ten years ago.

The police laugh at the story and declare that Mrs. Gottliebson is the victim of designing spiritualists. Mrs. Everill Young, a trance medium, is said to have given animating impulse to the complaint. Mrs. Young, it is said, asserts that the spirit of Andre Pico appeared before her in a bouquet of flowers and related to her the date of his murder by a female member of his family and his subsequent burial in the basement of the house on the corner of Polk and Hayes streets, where the Picos at one time resided.

Mrs. Young has been throwing a great deal of light on the family affairs of the last Spanish Governor of California. Within the past few weeks

Mrs. Gottliebson refused to tell the warrant clerk or the Judge the nature of the trance medium's manifestation. This portion of her story she regarded as sacred. She said that, when the body had been found, she would be perfectly willing to give all the information desired relative to the messages from the land of shades. She has been interested in spiritualism for some time. Two weeks ago she attended a seance given by Mrs. Young. Mrs. Gottliebson was accompanied by a Mrs. Middleton, an old friend, who, the medium has since found out, is really Mrs. Gottliebson's sister. Previous to this time Mrs. Gottliebson never knew she had a long-lost sister.

One pocket contained $150 in cash; the other a gold nugget that was worth, by actual weight, $51,25, which Mr. Wolfskill carried as a relic of his mining experience in the early pioneer days.

When the old gentleman went to bed Sunday night, he hung his trousers up as usual, on the floor. When he awole in the morning they were gone. After going through half a dozen open doors, which were securely locked when he retired for the night, he found his trousers in the hall, by the front door, which also stood ajar. The pockets were empty, but the burglar had considerately left the old man's empty pocketbook, tobacco and broken-handled knife on a stand in the hall. The money and gold were gone.

Nearly every room in the large house had been ransacked, but the thief overlooked jewelry and other valuables worth thousands of dollars.

The front door of the Wolfskill mansion has a Yale lock which the burglar had cleverly picked. The police think the job was dong by the same man who has broken into so many fashionable residences of late. IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

The pretty studio occupied by Miss Winston and Miss Mary L. O'Donoughue, in the Potomac building, was rowded yesterday afternoon, when these charming musicians received their friends from 2 until 4 o'clock, Some very delightful music was heard, Miss Winston giving two of Chaminade's exquisite songs, "Summer" and "The Sliver Ring," and "Fields in May" by Coomba, all rendered very sweetly and sympathetically, and Miss O'Donoughue plaing a Chopin nocturne and prelude, and that fascinating bit of frolic and 'daring, Godard's "Shepherd and Shepherdess." The room was prettily decorated with masses of roses and smilax, and lighted by two large yellow-shaded lamps. In a cosy alcove, Mrs. Winston and Mrs. O'Donoughue poured tea, at a daintily appointed teatable, and the "cup that cheers," with tempting cakes, was passed by Miss Langenberger of Anaheim, and Miss Kendall of Tustin. Among the guests were Mmes. Kimball, Foy, J. T. The cosy cottage on Twenty-fourth street was prettily decorated with roses, heliotrope, violets, mignonette and smilax. Among the table delicacies were large, red raspberries, gathered fresh from Mrs. Olde's own garden. The souvenirs were daintily-painted jewel-baskets of Japanese design. Mrs. Birdsall was the recipient of many gifts. The guests were: Mrs. William Tucker of Palmyra, N. Y.; Mrs. Smalley of Orange, Mmes. Wilcox, Reeves, Wheeler, J. J. Chrysanthemums and smilax were used in the dining-room. A "literary salad" was the entertainment of the evening. The ladies' first prize was a china cup and caucer, and the gentlemen's an onyx paper-weight. The consolations were volumes of "Mother Goose" rhymes. The record of the local office of the government weather bureau for this time of year was nearly broken Sunday morning, as far as low temperature is temperature was within one-half of a degree of the lowest recorded, it being 36½ deg., as against 36 deg., November 22, 1882.

36% deg., as against 36 deg., November 22, 1882.

The particular record referred to is for the last ten days in November of every year since the office was established in this city, in 1877.

While the weather observer's thermometer indicated a few degrees above the freezing point, heavy frosts were unofficially reported from a few places in this city. This apparent discrepancy, as has been explained heretofore, is due to the fact that the weather observer's thermometer is high above the ground, and as nearly as possible protected from local influences.

More or less talk has been heard about town regarding the inauguration of an insurance patrol service in this city. The opinion appears to prevail among the insurance men, however, that nothing of this kind can be done until the agents form some sort of an organization, which it will undoubtedly require several months to accomplish. BRAIN FOODS.

A Delusion and a Snare. It is strange that so many brain workers and thinkers—people who might be expected to be not easily imposed upon—turow away their money on so-called "brain feeds" and "brain invigorators"—af that most intricate and mysterious conpected to be not easily imposed upontarow way their money on so-called "brain feods" and "brain invigorators"—as if that most intricate and mysterious organ could be "fed" or affected in such a direct way.

It is preposterous!

The condition of the brain—its capacity for work—depends on the general physical condition—particularly of the digestion system, which includes a long chain of organs and functions.

The sedentary habits of brain workers debilitate this machinery of nutrition. Nature needs assistance—a gentle, healthy stimulant.

Peruvian Bitters are far and away above anything ever offered for this purpose. Their beneficial effects are simply wonderful. Their great efficacy lies in the combination—the world famous Peruvian Bark with other valuable herbs in fine old California Brandy. Peruvian Bitters are the greatest of tonics; gently stimulating degestion without creating a morbid appetite for stimulants; toning up the entire system, quickening all vital functions, driving out malarial poisons, and producing such a physical condition that all faculties are at their best and health is unaffected by the ordinary irregularities, exposures and overwork that even the most careful cannot avoid.

DISAPPOINTING.

Friends of the Nicaragua Canal project will be greatly disappointed at the ent contained in recent Wash ington dispatches, to the effect that the report of the Nicaragua Canal Com n, which is now in the hands of the President, is unfavorable to the construction of the canal, at least in hoped and believed that the repor would be favorable, and that on the strength of that report the project e placed upon a practical basis, so that the work of construction could be begun within the next few months. This great engineering project has been so long under discussion, and is of so great importance to the whole country, that there should be no more delay than is absolutely necessary in its

The principal question at issue, it seems, is that of cost. The commission finds that the data at hand are insufficient to form the basis of a correct estimate of the probable_cost of construction; but upon the data at hand estimate, placing the cost at $133.472. 893, this amount being nearly double the amount of the Maritime Canal Company's estimate of $69,893,660. In view of the insufficient data at hand the commission recommends an appropriation by Congress of $350,000 extensive additional surveys and examinations covering a period of eighteen months." An examination such as is proposed is deemed absolutely necessary to the practical and successful inauguration of the work.

It is, of course, desirable that all necessary precautions should be observed entering upon this important undertaking. The cost of the work should be ascertained with as much accuracy as possible, and all the en-gineering difficulties to be overcome should be thoroughly understood in advance. It was hoped that the re port of the commission, which is now before the President, would furnish the cessary data. Since it fails to do so, re is perhaps no more practicable tion of the course recommended by the ission. The fact that this course will involve a delay of a year and a half will prove a serious disappoint-ment to the friends of the enterprise. But this disappointment will be borne with comparatively good grace if such the final construction of the ORPHEUM. The rush at the Orpheum last night was doubtless entirely convincing to the management of that house that the classics are not what vaudeville audiences want, for the theater was filled from top to bottom, with a fair share of people sufficiently patient and interested to stand out the show behind the chairs.

There was considerable "go" to things from the moment Romandy and his players began to stir the multitude with Souss's characteristic "King Cotton" march. The Orion Trio repeated their specially of last week with but little change, Ida Howell, a southert with a little voice and a large fund of assurance, sang a couple of songs that were meant to be tough, but were merely tiresome, and for a recall gained a third one by warbling the "Alabama Coon," introducing a small colored urchin. Williams and Walker, genuine darkeys, did some quite clever comedy work and a bit of dancing that was the real thing. Lillian Smith is a star shot with a rifle and shattered glass balls with such accuracy of aim and celerity as to prove a catching novelty. She is a wonderful artist in her line and one of the big attractions of the year. Topack and Steel, made up to resemble Grover Cleveland and Ben Harrison, served to amuse the gallery, especially when they introduced a live pig to carry a part in a musical (7) trio. The Leigh sisters did their famous Trilby dance in bare legs and feet—that is, with legs bare from the knees down—but the house was a trife frosty; probably because it hasn't yet become used to that sort of thing. The most remarkable thing about the anatomical display is no slouch, so to speak. The young ladies are handsome, well developed and turn cartwheels with great abandon. The Four Lassards, in their comedy sketch, "Fun in a Country School," kept the house in a roar. Their acrobatic work was famously clever and the comedy part of their specialty was good clean fooling. COMING ATTRACTIONS. "The War of Wealth" which opens at the Los Angeles Theater tomorrow evening and remains the halnnes of the week, is pronounced by the San Francisco press with singular unanimity, the best example of an American melodrama seen on the Coast in a long time. It is by C. T. Dazey, the author of "In Old Kentucky," a play that has achieved wonderful popularity. Col. Barnes, in the San Francisco Call, says "The War of Wealth" is "infinitely superior to 'In Old Kentucky,' as a drama, and deserves all the praise it has received."

BURBANK. It is said that there can be too much even of a good thing, but that popular saw is given the lie by the continued and increasing success of the Frawley Company, who made abother hit last evening in Boucicault's comedy, "The Jilt." The play is one of the best in the repertoire of the troupe, being crisp, bright and sparkling, and exceptionally well presented. The piece abounds in clever lines, and striking dramatic situations, and the movement is so brisk that the interest never flags taken by an actor who fitted the character like a glove, and made the most of it. Mr. Frawley himself was delightful as Myles O'Hara, the povertystricken but high-bred and plucky young Irishman. He hit off the brogue to a charm, and made the part the central attraction of the piece. The bluff and generous English squire was portrayed to the life by Maclyn Arbuckle, and Wilson Enos made a very successful villain as Lord Marcus Wylle, Charles W. King as Col. Tudor, was, just the choleric, testy, kind-hearted old soldier so often pictured in English story, and H. D. Blackmore, as young Geoffrey Tudor, was just the jolly, rollicking youngster the Boucl-cault must have had in mind when he thought of the part. George W. Leslle was the apotheosis of "toughness" as James Daisy, the bookmaker and all-around scamp, and George Bosworth as Rev: M. Spooner, the lackadalsical country curate, was a delicious caricature of the real article. Miss Lansing Rowan has scored another success in the title role, and Blanche Bates made a charming Kitty Woodstock, especially in her love scenes with Myles O'Hara. Miss Moallister is not as much at home in her present role as she was in the part of the vinegary mother-in-law, which gave full swing to her talent in low comedy, but she makes the most of the part of Mrs. Welter, while Hope Ross is simply charming as Phyllis, the spirited little daughter of the trainer. The racehorses were a great success, and although a trifle be-wildered at their strange surroundings, accepted the situation gracefully, as well-bred horses should, and seemed to enter into the spirit of the part. The racehorses were a great is the piece, taken altogether, promises to be as popular as "The Ensign," and keeps quite up to the high standard of the company.

At the same time freights had got up to 35 cents, and even higher in certain cases, with a very light tonnage on the way, and very few ships in port. Then came a hot north wind, and one-half the crop disappeared, bringing the estimated yield down to 600,000 tons available for export purposes. With the heavy reductions on export stocks high freights had turned thousands of tons of shipping toward this port from all directions, until today there is 100,000 tons in port and on the way in excess of all previous arrivals in this port." about equally busy in booming San Francisco's "claims" to the Republican National Convention and abus-ing everybody who did not agree with them, should now get ready for the in-evitable banquet of crow-pie which The cloth is already ready, "He laughs best who laughs cratic National Convention, and prom-ises that, if the convention be held there, there will be "a revival of enthusiasm that will sweep the State into the Democratic column." VIEWS ON THE COMING REPUB-LICAN CAMPAIGN.

The Convention, the Platform and the Presidential Aspirants—Mc-Kinley Would be the Ideal Can-didate—Concerning the Meeting Place for the Convention.

The Times reprints the following interview from the San Francisco Call of last Sunday, after the correction of a few errors made in telegraphic ssion, and the addition word or sentence here and there, to make the meaning more clear.

COL. OTIS TALKS.

HE GOES DEEPLY INTO THE POLITICS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY. (Special Dispatch to The Call.) LOS ANGELES (Cal.,) Nov. 23.—The Los Angeles Times has taken but little interest in securing the Republican Na-tional Convention, and as it is the leading Republican paper in Southern Cali-fornia, and Col. H. G. Otis, the editor, one of the staunchest supporters of his party, your correspondent called on him today to get his views as to the prospects of the party and the reasons why he opposed the convention going to San Francisco.

THE INTERVIEW "Col. Otis, The Call would like your views on the interesting subject of the next National Republican Convention views on the interesting subject of the next National Republican Convention, the platform and the candidates."

"I would like to see, above all things, a truly representative body of Republicans assemble and act for the good of the people and of the whole country. I would like to see a solid convention adopt a solid platform and place upon it a solid candidate—one who would, by his high personality, his conspicuous ability, his thorough knowledge of the needs of the country, and his stalwart Republicanism, fill the bill, and be elected by a magnificent majority. I believe all these results are possible; and I, in common with thorough going Republicans throughout the land, mean to work for these so desirable ends."

"What is your idea of the platform?"
"Briefly stated, I would have a platform strong for sound money, strong for protection to American Industries, clear-cut in favor of the restriction of foreign immigration; outspoken for internal improvements, the improvement of our rivers and harbors, and the building of the Nicaragua Canal. I would have it especially strong in the enunciation of the American idea in our relations with foreign countries and the upholding of the honor and dignity of the American flag everywhere."

"What is your preference as to candidates?"

relations with foreign countries and the upholding of the honor and dignity of the American flag everywhere."

"As you may already know, my first choice, always, is Maj. McKinley. There are other strong men in the Republican ranks, however, who are available. There is Reed, and Gov. Morton of New York, Allison, Cullom and Robert T. Lincoln. As to Gen. Harrison, I do not see how he can enter the field under the circumstances. He has been twice nominated, once elected and once defeated, and his name is not one to conjure with. He was nominated the last time under circumstances highly objectionable in a Republican convention. A very large number of Federal office-hoiders many of them coming from States which never cast a Respublical electoral vote, voted for alm in that convention and succeeded in turning the tide to him against the best judgment of the great body of Republicans throughout, the country, in my opinion. Any one of the other aspirants whom I have named would be a good candidate and make a strong race; but none of them, it seems to me, would be the equal of Maj. McKinley is clean, able, experienced, and is the acknowledged foremost exponent of the great Republican doctrine of protection, upon which the decision will go off. as the lawyers say. He is, moreover, a young man, a solder and a man of magnetic personal qualities. He has long been a conspicuous and symmetrical figure in the affairs of the nation, and he would, in my opinion, be the ideal candidate. Certainly, if nominated he would sweep the country like a whirlwind, and through him and a Republican Congress the nation would be restored to the sway of Republican rule. I am his friend, because I had the honor to serve with him throughout the war, and because I had the honor to serve with him throughout the war, and because I had the honor to serve with him throughout the war, and because I had the honor to serve with him throughout the war, and because I had the honor to serve with him throughout the know his high worth and unquestioned merits, both as a man and a statesman. But my personal cholee is, of course, a secondary consideration in the case. My preference is based upon the larger considerations that will enter into his candidacy. Those considerations are fitness, availability and the certainty that he can be elected."

"What about your own purposes in the coming Presidential campair,?"

"I will continue to edit the Los Angeles Times as an independent Republican newspaper, if I am spared for the work."

"What of the California delegation?"

"It is too far in advance of the time for their selection to speculate. They ought to be among the best, strongest and most representative Republicans in the State, and no pretenders, traders or cheap demagogues ought to be given a chance in the several conventions which will select the delegates."

"What is your idea in reference to the Vice-Presidency for this Coast?"

"I cannot see that there is anything in it.

"What is your idea in reference to the Vice-Presidency for this Coast?"

"I cannot see that there is anything in it. A Vice-President could do us no good. He presides in the Senate, and is to some extent a cipher in all other relations. A Vice-President could be of little practical value to the Pacific Coast, but a member of the Cabinet could be, and I will strongly favor any judicious movement to secure for this Coast a Cabinet officer. A representative in the Cabinet of the next Republican President—a strong man, well acquainted with the interests and needs of the Pacific Coast. Is what we require. He should be a man well posted on the land and irrigation interests of the Far West, the irrigation laws and their application, and should be a staunch and determined friend of the Nicaragua Canal and of the great harbor interests of the Pacific Coast. With such a man in the Cabinet, and strong men in the two houses, we should hope to secure legislation and executive action in these directions such as our people feel themselves fairly entitled to."

"What are your views regarding the movement to secure the National Re-publican Convention for San Fran-cisco?"

movement to secure the National Republican Convention for San Francisco?"

"They are not, to be sure, entirely in harmony with those of the Call, and some other good journals and some of the people who are promoting the movement; but I think I can defend my views on the merits, and I recognize the fact that we cannot all think alike on any subject. And, by the way, I see that the Call has been making a most energetic effort in the direction you indicate. That is all right, for I like to see a fellow—or a newspaper—make a good fight when he feels called upon to enter the arena of conflict. I have been impressed with the energy shown by Mr. Shortridge and his great newspaper in this and many other particulars. Certainly such energy, persistence and force as have been shown by the Call and its editor cannot fall to produce results in any right direction. And to be right is the great solence; right in journalism, right in business, right in politics, right in

"It think that the manner in which the campaign has been commenced is not entirely wise or fudicious. I would be the fact that common was a second to the commence of the control of the commence of the convention for San Francisco has no importance when compared with the great and all-essential object of securing the very best results from the labors of that convention. Success on right lines is the great and to be achieved. I fear that success at the polis might be jeopardized by improper influences in the nominating convention. Success in the nominating convention of the convention holding of the convention at San Francisco."

The lack of telegraphic facilities on this Coast for the transmission of the voluminous convention press reports that will have to be sent out, is urged in the East as a serious objection. I believe that the number of wires running out from Minneapolis when the Republican convention was held there was about four times the number that now cross the continent, and the Minneapolis wires were loaded throughout the convention. It will readily be seen, therefore, that the telegraphic facilities on this Coast would be inadequate. This will inevitably result in opposition on the part of the great Eastern Journals, whose issues would be delayed many hours, not only for this reason, but also on account of the difference in time between the West and the East."

"I suppose if none of the chief ob-

"I suppose if none of the chief objections which you have mentioned existed, you would favor San Francisco?"
"Certainly; but my information in that the convention is not going there."

Mystic Tyndall Made Another Street Exhibition Yesterday. Tyndall indulged in another of his crowd that lined the streets traversed was even greater than on the previous occasion. The route traveled was more dangerous, but the feat was accomplished without a mishap.

The start was made from the Ramons Hotel at 3 o'clock. A committee, se lected at random, consisting of John Drain, superintendent of street sprinkling; N. M. Entler, a real estate dealer; Prof. Lowinsky, an orchestra leader; a Times reporter and another newspaper man, first drove in an open carriage north of Spring street to First, thence west to Broadway, and south to the City Hall, where they alighted, entered the building and, proceeding to the office of Fire Chief Moore, hid a cane behind the door. Then they drove back via Third street to the hotel. There, Prof. Tyndail, without any previous knowledge of the route taken or the place where the object was secreted, was found already blindfolded, and, taking the hands of Mr. Entler, led the way down stairs, and mounted the box of the carriage, with Mr. Entler at his side. The rest of the committee took seats inside, and, obeying the mystic's instructions to think hard of the route to be taken, started on the most thrilling ride any of them ever had taken.

Tyndall, with one hand in Mr. Entleris, and the reins and whip in the other, urged the horses on. Up Spring street they galloped, missing electric cars and other vehicles by the merest chance, it appeared to those in the carriage. They did the hardest thinking of their lives as they rounded the danserous Nadeau corner. On First and Broadway the blind-folded Jehu picked out the open spaces between the many vehicles with amazing accuracy. When the City Hall was reached a collision with a cable car and several wagons seemed inevitable, but the professor guided the prancing steeds to the only safe spot in front of the building, jumped off the box, and, fairly dragging Messrs. Entler and Drain with him, ran up the City Hall steps, through the corridor on a bee line for the fire chief's office. For an instant he let un his hold of Mr. Entler's lected at random, consisting of John Drain, superintendent of street sprinkseized the stick. Then he rushed back to the carriage, remounted the box, and, seizing the reins, drove back to the hotel by the near-set route.

The professor's pulse, which was 22 before the test, was 150 at the close. Mr. Entler, who acted as the psychio medium through which the professor got his impression, felt nervously exhausted. All of the committee were satisfied that the test was fairly made, but none of them seemed anxious to repeat the experiment.

The fact that this committee had nothing to do with biindfolding the mystic's eyes, that operation having been done by himself or manager, makes it impracticable to set at rest the suspicions about the real character of the bandage, which, to all outward appearance, was composed of a white and black handkerchief.

HIS INDOOR PERFORMANCE.

Several hundred people gathered in Music Hall last evening to witness the exhibition of mind-reading feats performed by Prof. Tyndall.

The usual preliminaries were gone through with before the performance proper began, the professor rehearing how he discovered himself possessed of hypnotic or occuit-power, and relating several instances of the beneficent workings of his "gift," as he terms it. Beginning with comparatively simple tests, such as the finding of secreted pins. Prof. Tyndall proceeded to the more difficult and complicated performances of the evening.

A committee of well-known men assisted the mind-reader, and certified to the genuineness of his work at the conclusion of each test. The professor's tricks have been performed and described before. The task of finding three cards taken from a neck and servered from a the genuineness of his work at the conclusion of each test. The professor's tricks have been performed and described before. The task of finding three cards taken from a pack and secreted in various portions of the hall, and telling the audience the exact cards taken; of finding a man who has used a knife on another man and the hidden knife, with the man on whom the knife was used, all three being scattered through the room; of selecting from the large audience five persons who have participated in a mock marriage, acting as bride, groom, bridesmaid, best man and priest, and declaring which acted in each capacity—these and other wonderful things the professor did last evening, as he has done before, to the complete mystification of his audience, and the committee assisting him, as well.

During the evening Prof. Tyndall called a "Prof." Bell to the platform, saying that Mr. Bell had asserted his ability to explain how his (Prof. Tyndall's) feats are performed. "Prof." Bell refused to expose the other professor last evening, but challenged him to a meeting next Monday evening, when he would demonstrate that Prof. Tyndall's feats are easily explainable. It is understood that Bell claims to be able to duplicate the performances of Tyndall, and that he will attempt to do so on the occasion in question.

Prof. George Felton did not come to Los Angeles to fill a long-felt want, but he is badly wanted now. At least those people who accepted his check in lieu of cash and accommodated him finan-cially in various ways would like to gaze upon his manly frame once more, especially if he were behind prison has been a conspicuous figure around the clubs, hotel lobbies and saloons He was "a blooming Englishman, don't cher know," and his card bore the legend "Court planist to Her Royal Highness, Princess Louise."

The professor was a clever musician, no one gainsaid that, but he had other accomplishments that made him degagements. Yet he was not only able to subsits sumptuously while in town, but it is believed that his pockets were well lined with cash when he left so suddenly. It is estimated that he worked the town for about $2000.

Among the people he bilked are tailors, music-dealers, pawn-brokers, saloon-keepers, money-doaners, clubmen and his wife, although it is hinted in some quarters that she has stood in with him on the play. The only circumstance in substantiation of this report, however, is the rumor that she has left the city also. She was still at home yesterday afternoon, but a reporter who called at her house as late as 10 pm. found everything closed up and was unable to get a response to repeated rings. It was stated by several clubmen who knew her well that she took an evening train out of the city to join her husband, wherever he might be.

Mrs. Felton's actions yesterday made it appear that she was a victim, instead of an accomplice, and that she had really been deserted and robbed by her husband. Early in the day she called upon *R. Holitby Myers, Esq., who had been her attorney on former occasions, and told him her tale of woe. It appeared from her statement that she thought her husband had gone to San Dlego to spend Sunday, as he had been telling her and friends for three or four days that he was going there. Sunday morning she took her little girl and went out to spend the day. The servant also went away to visit friends. When Mrs. Felton returned home in the evening she found that her busband had been there, ransacked the house and taken everything of value that belonged to him. Monday morning she received a letter from him, written on Jonathan Club note paper, and dated Sunday; saying she no doubt would be surprised, and he was pained and sorry to leave her, but he was forced to go, as she would him, written on Jonathan Club note paper, and dated Sunday, saying she no doubt would be surprised, and he was pained and sorry to leave her, but he was forced to go, as she would not give him any more money. He had borrowed money to pay his way out of town, and would never return.

When Mr. and Mrs. Felton came to Los Angeles, they took a partially furnished house at No. 316 South Pearl atreet, belonging to E. W. Pratt. Mrs. Felton had some furniture of her own, which was used to fill out the house. She advertised rooms to let, and generally had a few men roomers. The income from the rooms, however, was not sufficient to support her husband with his expensive habits in idleness. She was, therefore, compelled to pawn her diamonds and sealskin sacque, and her husband also induced her to have a $1000 mortgage plastered in some property she had at Hanford, Cal. The Security Savings Bank of this city holds this mortgage. Felton also mortgaged all the furniture in the house, including that belonging to Mr. Pratt, it is alleged, without his wife's knowledge, although her name is signed to the mortgage.

When Mrs. Felton called at Steele's pawnshop yesterday, she found that Felton had been there last Saturday ovening and redeemed her seals in coat and diamonds with him, and is supposed to have pawned them elsewhere, or taken them with him when he left town.

Feiton had bought a piano of Gardner & Zeliner on the installment plan, on which he had made a few payments. Last Thursday he went to Gardner & Zeliner's and asked them to cash a check for $175, signed by J. B. Birkney of Hanford, Cal., and indorsed by Mrs. G. Felton. The firm was a little short of ready cash, but let him have $100. Gardner & Zeliner still have the check, which they are now satisfied is bogus. It was owing to this belief, at least, that Mr. Zeliner yesterday went to the District Attorney's office to get a complaint against Felton for obtaining money by false pretenses. The complaint was granted and a warrant issued, but the officers have been unable to find a corpus upon which to serve the warrant, as Felton has flown.

After it became noised about that Felton was missing, other people became turning up with checks containing forged signatures, which Felton is alleged to have uttered last Saturday. George Larrabee, a life-insurance agent, is said to have been touched for $150 on the strength of one of these checks. George P. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, is in this city, stopping at the home of his son. His mission is strictly one of business connected with his office. He expects to devote several days to the examination of the system of cattle inspection to devote several days to the examination of the system of cattle inspection at the stockyards with a view to ascertaining whether the work is done in a way to protect the cattle interests of the United States abroad. He affirms positively his recent visit to St. Louis had no connection with an effort on the part of private concerns to break up the "Big Four" beef and pork combine. While he declares he knows nothing about the alleged project of certain millionaires to establish several pscking-houses besides those already existing in East St. Louis, he admits steps have been taken to increase the force of inspectors at that point. That, however, he says is due to the insufficiency of the forces now at work there.

"The fact is " said he "with the large.

ficiency of the forces now at work there.

"The fact is," said he, "with the large and constantly growing business East St. Louis has only twenty-five inspectors, while Chicago has fully ten times that number. The business has increased at that point 80,000 head in the last year, while in Kansas City and Chicago it has decreased 400,000 head. Thus the packers there ask for three or four more inspectors and they ought to have them."

the Contention as to Majority Protest Being a Bar to Proceedings for Six Months-Sunday Publication Legal.

The Supreme Court has reversed the decision of the lower court in the case of Charles L. Smith (appellant) vs. Barclay Hazard (respondent,) which case was appealed from the Superior Court of Santa Barbara. The decision Court of Santa Barbara. The decision will probably be of a good deal of interest locally, for the reason that it rules on points which have frequently been raised here in connection with street improvements proposed or otherwise, of which there are a great many in this city.

wise, of which there are a great many in this city.

The opinion in the case was prepared by Commissioner Van Clief, and is concurred in by Commissioners Beecher and Seeris. For the reasons given the judgment is reversed, and the cause is remanded for a new trial. This order is signed by Justices McFarland, Henshaw and Temple.

The text of the opinion is as follows:
This is an action to recover as street assessment of $218.46 for work done by plaintiff on Micheltorena street, in the city of Santa Barbara, under contract with the Superintendent of Streets.

On June 13, 1893, the City Council, by resolution, declared its intention "to grade, curb and gutter" said street, "from the northeasterly-line of Chapala street to the northeasterly-line of De la Vina street, a distance of one block, and duly published and posted said resolution.

Therefore, on July 1, 1893, the owners.

and duly published and posted said resolution.

Therefore, on July 1, 1893, the owners of a majority of the frontage on the proposed improvement, in due form, protested against said improvement, but the City Council disregarded their protest, and, without delay, proceeded in the matter as if no objection or protest had been made.

The court below ruled that the protest was a bar to further proceedings for six months, and that all subsequent proceedings, including the assessment, were, therefore, void. Whether or not this ruling was correct is the principal question discussed by counsel on this appeal. The appallant contends that it was error.

The block improved was one of the appeal. The appallant contends that it was error.

The block improved was one of two adjoining ungraded blocks intervening between, and bounded by each end by graded blocks; and it is not denied that the Council had power to improve the two ungraded blocks; thus situated, notwithstanding the protest; but respondent contends that the whole intervening unimproved space of two blocks must have been improved under one resolution of intention or a distinct contract, in disregard of the protest by the owners of a majority of the frontage, even though each of the intervening blocks was being so improved at the time.

I think, however, that this is a mis-

In the time. It think, however, that this is a misconstruction of the street law. Sec. 2 of the street improvement act of 1885, as amended in 1891, (p. 196.) confers upon the City Council general authority "to order the whole, or any portion, either in length or width of streets" to be improved, etc. But Sec. 3 of the same act limits this general authority as follows:

be improved, etc. But Sec. 3 of the same act limits this general authority as follows:

"The owners of a majority of the frontage of property fronting on said proposed work or improvement, where the same is for one block or more, may make a written objection to the same within ten days after the expiration of the time of the publication and posting of said notice, which objection shall be delivered to the clerk of the City Council. . . and such objections so delivered and indorsed shall be a bar for six months to any further proceedings in relation to the doing of said work, or making said improvement, unless the owners of one-half or more of the frontage, as aforesaid, shall meanwhile petition for the same to be done."

Further on in the same section, an exception to the above limitation is expressed as follows: "And when not more than two blocks, including street crossings, remain ungraded to the official grade, or otherwise unimproved, in whole or in part, and a block or more on each side of said street has been so graded or otherwise improved, or when not more than two blocks at the end of a street remain so ungraded or otherwise unimproved, and or there wise unimproved, and or the work mentioned in this act to be done upon said intervening ungraded or unimproved part of said street, or at the end of a street, shall not be stayed or prevented by any written or other objection, unless such council shall deem proper."

The facts of the case at bar bring it clearly within this exception, and exclude it from the above limitation upon the power of the Council; and, therefore, the authority of the City Council to improve the street through said two clearly within this exception, and exclude it from the above limitation upon the power of the Council; and, therefore, the authority of the City Council to improve the street through said two intervening blocks must be that conferred by Sec. 2 of the act, namely, "to order the whole, or any portion" thereof to be graded or otherwise improved, regardless of objections by owners of lots fronting on the improvement.

The plaintiff pleaded and offered to prove that both intervening blocks were being improved at the same time, though under distinct proceedings and contracts, and that the improvement of both had been completed; but the court rejected all proffered evidence of this character, to which plaintiff excepted and contends here that the exclusion of such evidence was error. But if the views above expressed are correct, the proffered evidence was immaterial and its rejection harmless.

Counsel for respondent contends that the Superintendent acepted the work before it was completed acording to contract, claiming that there was a narrow strip of an average width of six inches on which stood a fence in front of one of the lots, ungraded at the time the work was accepted, though it was afterward graded by the owner of the lot. The only remedy for this attenuated defect was to be had by appeal to the City Council. Jennings vs. Le Breton, (80, Cal. 8.)

Sec. 3 of the act requires the resolution of intention to make the improvement to be "published by two insertions in one or more daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspapers published and circulated in said city," etc. The resolution in this case was inserted on two consecutive days—Saturday and Sunday.

The publication was a literal compliance with the statue—"two insertions

John Roberts, a colored man who was caught by Officer Rico in the act of stealing five pleces of lumber, pleaded guilty to the charge of petty larceny, and will be sentenced today.

F. W. Sweet, a waiter, was arraigned for obtaining $3$ by false pretenses from James Mackel, a saloon-keeper. Sweet presented an order for the money signed by Peter Rassmussen, but the latter denies that he authorized Sweet to collect it, hence the arrest. Sweet will have a hearing Wednesday afternoon.

William Lewin and James Timothy were given an opportunity to prove that they did not steal a pair of horse boots. Testimony was closed and a recess taken till today. The evidence against them, especially against Timothy is very weak, and they will probably be discharged by the lenient Judge.

Thomas Howard, Pat McDermott and John Welch were given a hearing on the charge of having stolen a box of dates. Howard took all the blame on himself, and exonerated McDermott and Welch. The trial will be concluded today.

The battery case against John Beck, who had a little personal encounter at Sycamore Grove, was dismissed.

The arraignment of Pete Mulhens for stealing a pair of trousers was postponed till today.

There were in all thirty-seven cases in the Police Court calendar, fourteen being for drunkenness. T. L. Merritt and W. J. Raymond, who smashed a lot of glasses in a saloon, while intoxicated, got fifteen and ten days, respectively, for their act.

William Viscovich and Joe Smith were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday for disturbing the peace at the Council of Labor ball at Turner Hall Saturday night. Both were adjudged quility and ordered to appear for sentence at 1:30 p.m. today. Officer Matuszkiewiz, who made the arrests, had quite an exciting experience. Liquor flowed freely at the ball, and in a drunken quarrel Smith and Viscovich came to blows. Viscovich, it is asserted, smashed Smith in the face, and when Officer Matuszkiewiz rushed in to part the fighters, Smith fought the officer and smashed his helmet. Matuszkiewiz finally succeeded in placing both men under arrest, but when he tried to leave the ball with his prisoners a crowd of about 150 interfered, and there was slugging right and left. Eddle Bald, the crack bicycle riderfrom the Bison City, got mixed up in the row, it is alleged, and delivered a few blows straight from the shoulder where they did the most good. It was not until Matuszkiewiz was reinforced by several other officers that he was able to take his prisoners to the station. The fight was general for a while, and the police came in for a good deal of abuse. The wonder is that so few arrests were made. William Viscovich and Joe Smith

The Revival.

The Revival.

The revival services continue at the First Christian Church. Last evening Evangelist Romig preached upon "How Men are Saved in the Three Dispensations of Religion." To illustrate the subject to the eye, the evangelist used a large pictorial chart. On this chart the three dispensations were set forth, showing the conditions of men in an unsaved condition; that in each dispensation men were saved by faith and obedience, and that resulting from these things men came into a sound condition. The sermon this evening will be a chart sermon on "Baptism."

The City Council Stirred to Action in the Social-evil Question— Scripture Quoted.

An Extension of Time in Which to Pay City Taxes-A "Darktown" Brigade Proposed.

James Sharp Sent to Highland—De la Osa on Trial—Lowry Indict-ment Resubmitted to the Grand Jury.

The City Council yesterday requested the Police Commission to revoke the liquor license of Theodore Bauer on Al-ameda street and remove the houses of ill-fame from that thoroughfare. A motion to have a company of colored firemen formed was referred to the Fire Commission. The time allowed for the payment of city taxes was extended one week by the Council.

At the Courthouse yesterday there re no particularly important cases. It was law and motion day and the building was full of attorneys. James Sharp was tried for insanity and sent to Highland. The grand jury is getting a good deal of its work thrown back upon its hands. John Bradbury has at last won in the suit brought against him by Jones.

CITY COUNCIL.

odore Bauer's Saloon License

The City Council took the bull by the horns, so to speak, yesterday morning, when the everlasting social-evil ques-tion came up for discussion, and, with but very little waste of words, ordered the Police Commission to revoke the liquor license of Theodore Bauer, who conducts a notorious resort in the heart of the "Tenderloin District," on Ala-of the "Tenderloin District," on Ala-meda street.

This action was the result of the resolution presented yesterday to the Council by the Ministerial Union. The resolutions were published in The Times of last Tuesday, and are a scathing arraignment of the methods altherto employed in dealing with the social evil as it exists on Alameda street. When the clerk read the com-munication from the ministers, Coun-cimen Munson and Kingery both made speeches, anent the subject, repeating the stereotyped platitudes which have become so familiar in the mouths of the speeches, anent the subject, repeating the stereotyped platitudes which have become so familiar in the mouths of the Councilmen as to almost produce a nausea when heard. A little scripture was quoted on the side, with reference to "the casting of stones by those who are not without sin;" but beyond these desultory outbursts the Councilmen were content to allow the interesting subject to pass without extended speech-making. The matter was considered settled with the adoption of a motion requesting the Police Commission to remove the fence and houses of ill-tame from Alameda street, and to revoke the saloon license of Theodore Bauer, whose resort is in the midst of the settlement of cribs.

The matter of the hearing of the protest of Lena Haas against the sewering of Fourteenth and other streets, continued to this time, was taken up and Mr. Haas appeared in support of the protest. The Health Officer stated that it is a sanitary necessity to have these sewers constructed, and a motion was accordingly made that the protest be denied, which motion was adopted. The protest of Mary A. Strong against the report of the Commissioners for the opening of Twenty-first street from Bonsallo avenue to Norwood street was denied and the report of the Commissioners, together with the plat of the assessment district, was confirmed and adopted. The applicastreet from Bonsallo avenue to Norwood street was denied and the report of the Commissioners, together with the plat of the assessment district, was confirmed and adopted. The application of C. P. Bockins for an extension of his leave of absence was granted. The draft of the contract with W. Peterson for the disposal of dead animals was approved. The bonds filed by H. de Loguna for the performance of his duty in the carrying out of the terms of his telephone franchise was approved by the Council.

All these diseases would go if the poison

You can do it by taking Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.
It is such an easy piece of knowledge to remember.

Cold Comfort for Jones.

The suit of John M. Jones against John Bradbury, appealed from the Justice's Court, was tried yesterday before Judge Van Dyke, and judgment was given for the defendant. Col. Bradbury gave "Countess" Vera Hastings a note for $1000, which she transferred to Mrs. Rose Williams, who brought suit to recover the amount, but consented to compromise the case. In the mean time, Mr. Bradbury had employed Jones to get the note back, and had given him $50 as a retainer, but, before the negotiations were completed, the affair was put into the hands of a lawyer. Jones brought suit for $250 as compensation for his services, and succeeded in obtaining $150 in Justice Young's court. Judge Van Dyke, however, decided that the $50 which had been paid Jones was quite sufficient, and gave judgment in favor of Mr. Bradbury.

is the best type of the world, and, therefore, the best field for preparation.
Wisely managed, classes level up more that looks to moving up? Who will

The individual is not lost in the long lated picket and the long battle line? The individual is not lost in the long line. Some one man plants the colors in advance when the line wavers, and a half-dozen ardent spirits hold the line from breaking under a fierce charge."

At roll-call nearly all the $22 city teachers responded.

The national anthem, "America," was sung by the institute. Rev. Warren F. Day invoked the divine blessing on the work to be done.

Superintendent Foshay spoke of the condition of the city schools. He said that in 1885 there were 71 teachers in 109 Angoles, and that the number is now 222, exclusive of substitute teachers. Last June there were 10,621 pupils on the rolls. In September the number had increased to 12,609. The 1988 extra pupils were accommodated in nineteen schoolrooms, thus placing 105 pupils in such room. The speaker ursed the teachers to devote more time to scientific child-study.

Superintendent T. H. Kirk of San Bernardino addressed the institute on "School Government." He favored the granting of just as much individual liberty as is consistent with the well-being of others, and deprecated close confinement. It was suggested that teachers should live and work closer to the hearts of their pupils.

Mrs. Laura G. Riddeli of San Diego spoke on the subject, "English Language." She was of the opinion that there was no excuse for common mistakes in promunciation and enunciation. The speaker emphasized her points with broad reproductions of slang and street talk. She had broken her own son of using a vocabulary of very bad English by conversing with him in his own dialect. He finally became disgusted and gave up the habit.

Miss Agnes Crary delivered an address on the teaching of English in the public schools. She said the teacher of English should be infatuated with both literature and teaching. A lack of culture accounts for the inability to express a thought. Deep thought is not looked upon as going with incoherency as it once was. Fifty per cent. of pupils leave school before they are 11 years old, and 75 per cent. before they are 12 Pupils in literature should not be treated like sg many children.

In section five T. J. Phillips presided and Miss Harriet Hanton acted as secretary, "Arithmetic" was the subject of A. W. Plummer's address, Mrs. Gertrude Parsons spoke on "Music," J. F. Chamberlain on "Geography," and Miss Agnes Crary on "English."

In section six Miss Fidella A. Anderson presided and Miss Lizzle A. Mc-Kenzie acted as secretary. Milton Carlson took for the subject of some remarks. "Business Arithmetic"; Miss Agnes Crary spoke on "English," Miss Eleanor M. Joy on "Music," and W. H. Housh on "Grammar Grade Work as a Preparation for the High School."

In section seven "Latin" was discussed by Walker A. Edwards, O. F. Barth and F. A. Molyneaux. A. E. Baker and M'ss Alma S. Brigham spoke on the subject "Shall We Have a Substitute for Caesar?" "Algebra and Geometry" were discussed by J. M. Mc-Rherton and J. H. Brown, and "Shall They Be Taught Concurrently?" by C. I. D. Moore and M. R. Williams.

A JOINT SESSION.

The Two Institutes Had an Interest

A joint session of the city and the county teachers' institutes was held in the auditorium of the State Normal School building last evening. About seven hundred teachers and friends were in attendance.

The programme opened with a chorus

by the Normal School Glee Club.

Rev. J. S. Pitman delivered an address on "Morality in Education."

"Our government," said the speaker, "has experimental stations which are supported at great expense. Many branches of the governmental service are divided into departments, and these departments deal with number-less wants and needs of the people. If we, as teachers, should attempt to add the inculcation of religious principles to the school curriculum there would be a vigorous protest immediately. by the Normal School Glee Club we, as teachers, should attempt to add the inculcation of religious principles to the school curriculum there would be a vigorous protest immediately. We would be called bigots, schemers and various other disagreeable names, and charged with attempting to unite church and state. And yet men and women may enter many professions who would not be tolerated in the ranks of teachers. Our teachers cannot do everything unaided, but, with proper support, they can do much to make this wicked, but beautiful, world a very pleasant place of abode."

P. M. Fisher took the place of Henry H. Powers, detained at home by sickness, and delivered an address on "The Future American." There was a backbone of grim truth in the speaker's remarks, but he carried his auditors with him and made them forget the gravity of the subject with sharply-pointed himorous skits.

"The American is a composite of many races," said the speaker. "We may take for illustration the three great European nations, from which we have drawn strongly to make upour national character. England, Germany and France. The strong point of the Englishman is steadfastness of purpose, the quality of knowing what one wants and bending one's energies to obtain it. There is a robust strength about him which surprises and sometimes shocks us. He is a natural land-grabber, a conquistador. His rudeness sometimes causes conservative Americans to protest.

"The German's national characteristic is loyalty to destiny. He stays where he is placed. If a German settles on a quarter-section of land the probability is that, you will find some of his grandchildren living on that some piece of land. The German is one of America's best conservative elements.

some piece of land. The German is one of America's best conservative elements.

"The Frenchman is a rhythmical make-up, a born diplomat. He does not hunt up rocky steeps to climb simply for the purpose of accomplishing a success. Neither does he remain in one place long. He is politic and inclined to be the brother of every man. Matthew Arnold says he worships the god of lubricity. The savages who came from the forests to greet the Europeans in early days shook thands freely with the Frenchman. When they greeted Miles Standish they looked in his left hand to see if it did not hide a sword. The Frenchman is an educator and courteous at all times.

"In the American character I can see the steady purpost of England and the loyalty, and patriodism of Germany, but, I regret to say, the politic ness of the Frenchman is almost entirely wanting. As a nation we are not courteous Our children have. Ittle ness of the Frenchman is almost entirely wanting. As a nation we are not courteous. Our children, have little deference. American boys dislike to doff their hats to anybody. As a body of teachers we are doing our best all over this country of grand possibilities to make pupils polite. The trouble seems to lie in the parents. A European was asked upon his return what he had noticed in America as particularly striking. He replied promptly: The predominance of the child. That is our great drawback."

The United Samaritans will give a chanksgiving dinner to about fifty amilies, and ask all interested to do that articles of food and leave with the committee at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, president of W.C.T.U. of Pasadena, and, after the singing of an appropriate selection. Rev. Clark Crawford read a letter from veteran temperance campaign. Neal Dow, in which he deni Gen. Neal Dow, in which he denied specifically the conversation which Judge Weed, in the meeting of the Council, devoted to the citizens' committee, referred to. He said that, on the contrary, every specific statement made by Judge Weed in regard to the increase of drunkenness in Maine was false, and gave statistics to prove his statements. Dr. Manwell, the next speaker, made a brief address upon the success of prohibition in Maine and other States, and gave figures which placed the increase in crime side by sidwith the increase in the sale of liquors in various communities.

with the increase in the sale of liquors in various communities.

Rev. William Jones of the Universalist Church delivered a thoughtful address upon the restraint of the liquor traffic, and the modern method of dealing with the drink evil. He exhorted his hearers to combat the evil in the spirit of Christ, with loving charity, with a kind and firm policy. He showed that the use of liquor, even moderately, endangers the physical health, and blunts the moral sensibilities. An original poem by J. A. Wilson showed forth the futility of all methods of dealing with the liquor traffic, except those based upon absolute prohibitory enactments.

The Tramp Nuisanee.

A large number of tramps have lately made their appearance in Pasadena, being driven here, it is thought, for fear that if they are arrested in Los Angeles, San Bernardino or some of the surrounding towns, they will be obliged to work out their fine, while here they are merely jailed and kept in idleness. In the Council meeting this afternoon Judge Weed spoke of the very general apprehension in Pasadena on account of the influx of hobos, and said that while there were men among them who would work, there were also criminals and vapands who had no such desire, and they were a menace to any community. The Marshal consulted him regarding the punishments to be imposed upon hobos. Judge Weed, as chairman of the Committee on Police, recommended that the members of the Council give the subject their careful consideration, in order that they should be able to advise with the Marshal. He said that he knew that some tenderhearted philanthropists in Pasadena would frown upon any plan which would put the tramp to work here, as he is put to work in Los Angeles and San Bernardino, but something must be done to keep Pasadena free from them.

Criminal Carelessness.

The criminal carelessness of persons in the fire limits, who permit fires to be made in the rear of their premises and then pay no attention to them has been in the fire limits, who permit fires to be made in the rear of their premises and then pay no attention to them, has been mentioned more than once of late, and this afternoon it was learned that one night recently the night watchman averted what would surely have been a disastrous conflagration if he had not chanced upon it. A fire, made of old paper and refuse from a store, was burning briskly within ten feet of the oil house where T. J. Martin stores his oil, and only a few feet from a pile of packing-boxes set up against the house. A slight breeze springing up would have carried the fire into the packing-boxes, and the next thing would have been a serious conflagration. There is no reason why the Fire and Water Committee of the Council, the police, or some of the city officials should not at once serve notice upon all such offenders that they are regarded criminally careless, and unless they mend their ways and clean up their back yards, they should be arrested and fined.

They Must "Get a Move."

They Must "Get a Move."

The patience of the city officials and property-owners on Colorado street with the electric road company is about exhausted, and they will take some active steps to bring the company to time within the next few days. The officials of the road see-saw and dilly-dally, will not say what their intention is regarding the laying of tracks on Colorado street, and meanwhile the material has been for a month lying in the gutters, and for a fortnight paving contractors have had everything prepared to begin work between Marengo and Raymond avenues, but the company seems no nearer a decision now than it was three months ago in regard to the pavement on that street.

protest upon the Euclid avenue sewer, which was set for a hearing at 2 o'clock. A number of the protesting property-owners were present, and, while the majority of them favored the grading, curbing and guttering of the street, the opinion was unanimous that the sewer was not needed, and that forcing the people to build it at this time would be imposing a needless burden. The matter was referred to the Health Officer, and if he finds to the Health Officer, and if he finds that the sanitary condition of the street is good the sewer will not be constructed.

The Colorado street property-owners were represented by Mr. Strong, who presented a petition asking that the grade of the street be changed. The changes as specified were explained by an appended document from the office of the City Engineer, which stated that the changes contemplated would be made mainly between Marengo avenue and Lake street. From Marengo avenue it was proposed to make the gal preliminaries which will be conducted in the meantime in the usual way.

The business-license tax is the subject from which the City Trustees do not seem able to get away, although when it comes to formulating one it seems that "one's afraid and the cther da's'n't." Mr. Wiley brought on the discussion this afternoon by appearing to ask that the hackmen be licensed. In the course of his remarks he stated that private persons here who come from the East and buy horses and a carriage, and hire a driver, after they have had an hour's drive are willing to let their equipage and driver for 50 cents a day, or some such figure, and of course livery and hackmen could not compete with these. It was this class he wanted to reach. He did not explain how he was to detect these people, and make the license apply to them, since their carriages and they are in no sense engaged in the livery business. Mayor Cox was willing to tax the hackmen, but Judge Weed still hankers for the general business license, and said he was willing to devote an entire week in arranging a schedule which should tax all business in town. He saw no reason whatever why such a tax should not obtain. Mr. Washburn should tax all business in town. He saw no reason whatever why such a tax should not obtain. Mr. Washburn agreed with him and Councilman Hamilton seemed to acquiesce in the main proposition. Judge Weed said that Councilman Lukens would not act in harmony with the board in licensing business or it would have been done long ago. He said he wanted to see all business protected. He did not seem to think that when business desired such pretection it would ask for it, and evidently bases his scheme of protection on some theory which does not imply the consent of the protected. The discussion ended in the proposition by Trustee Hamilton that the hackmen by Trustee Hamilton that the hackmen be licensed, but it received no second, and the matter was dropped. A resolution of intention setting the width of sidewalk on Grand avenue be-tween Palmetto and Arbor street at fourteen feet and another affecting the fourteen feet and another affecting the improvement of that portion of the street passed the board, and the resolution affecting Madelaine drive, in which a clerical error had been made when it was formerly presented, was brought before the board for correction. Another clerical error in awarding the contract of sewer on Raymond avenue instead of Lincoln avenue to J. B. Hughes was corrected, and when the bids on the sewer work on Raymond were opened today, S. J. Edwards was found to be the only bidder, agreeing to perform the entire work, 1990 feet, for $1338. to perfor for $1338.

A petition from property-owners on Broadway asking that the street be kept free from obstruction, and since it was but thirty feet wide, and was the outlet for a large amount of heavy teaming, no vehicles should be allowed to stand on the block between Green and Colorado street, and that no corporation should allow its employees to unload baggage or express vans there. This petition is in accordance with the sentiments of the property-owners, and with the Southern Pacific management. It was tabled by the Council.

was tabled by the Council, Petitions requesting the establish-ment of grades on Avoca avenue, and ment of grades on Avoca avenue, and regarding the extension of Benefit court to Oakland avenue and of Garfield avenue through to Park street were granted, as was the request that certain cypress trees on Madison avenue should be spared when the street was opened through. George H. Dorn's petition for permission to erect a sigh to extend over the sidewalk was laid upon the table, and De Bussy was granted the privilege of building a corrugated-iron shed on his premises.

Los Angeles, Nov. 25, 1895.
RUSSIA'S COINAGE. It is stated that Russia intends adding, next year, $86,000,000 to her coinage, of which $77,-000,000 will be in gold and $9,000,000 in silver. This is ten times more gold than Russia has coined during the last four years. Her gold holdings are said to be considerable, while her production of that metal is also quite large, amounting, last year, to $24,000,000 in value. Her silver production, however, is in-significant, amounting to only about last year, to $24,000,000 in value. $350,000 in 1894. Bradstreet's, commenting on this, says that Russia will have to buy silver in order to carry out its coinage project, because its present stock of that metal is inadequate, being less than half the amount of the proposed coinage. This new coinage project is attributed by some to preparing for the redemption of paper money, but it is not unlikely that the increase in the silver coinage may be intended to meet the extension of Russian trade among the silver-using countries of the far east.

ANAHEIM'S SUGAR FACTORY. According to the Anahelm Gazette it would look as though the Oxnards were going to build a sugar factory at Ana-nelm. A statement in that paper going to build a sugar factory at Anahelm. A statement in that paper credits Richard Gird of Chino with saying that the Oxnards would probably build crude sugar works in that vicinity before the next beet-sugar season had arrived. The Gazette says that with a crude-sugar factory in operation the farmers about Anahelm could afford to raise beets at $3 a ton and still be 25 cents a ton ahead of this year's prices, as they would not have to pay the freight of 75 cents a ton to Chino.

The same paper, speaking of the season's run at Chino says: "The Chino sugar factory closed down for the season on Thursday last, after a successful run of 132 days, since July 5. The output is 200,000 bags of sugar, of 100 pounds weight each, or 20,000,000, pounds, worth, at 4½ cents, $900,000, or, at 5 cents, a million. The money expended for beets, we are reliably informed, equaled $360,000. The factory must have made a mint of money, some estimates going as high as $200,000. A report has been current that since the arrival of Henry T. Oxnard, president of the works, from the East, it has been decided to erect another factory, and that Amahelm is the point where the works will probably be erected."

This is probably erroneous. The new enterprise at Anahelm is in the hands of others.

RAILROAD EARNINGS. The railroad business of last month is reported to be one of the largest in the history of roads. The published reports show that it was not confined to any particular section, but seems to have extended over the entire country. The increase was more marked in the Western, Southern and Pacific roads, all of which show larger gains for last month than for many months past. The only group of, roads which has not participated in the general increase is the Southwestern one, the receipts of which are less than they usually are in October. This is attributed to the short cotton crop along the Texan lines.

The total gross earnings of 125 railroads in the United States and Mex²o, with a total of about 100,000 miles of track, were $54,837,075 in October, a gain of $3,500,000 over the same month of last year.

WOOL. Sales of wool on the New track, were $54,837,075 in October, a gain of $3,500,000 over the same month of last year.

WOOL. Sales of wool on the New York market continue to be very heavy. Dunn's Review reports them for the first half of the present month at $6,73,...350 pounds of domestic and $6,119,600 of foreign. This is largely in excess of th sales made during the corresponding period of 1894 and 1893. Commenting or that fact, the Review says: "It is to many an insolvable mystery why reported sales are so large, when they know that many factories formerly employed are not at work at all, or with a very small part of their full force, and the unloading of specialties on each other does not cause the decline in prices which would naturally result. The strong demand for wool abroad encourages many to hold stiffly. In clay worsteds, and in the sort of wool used in their manufacture, the demand is remarkably good, and it is thought an advance in domestic prices can be maintained. As beaver and kersey overcoatings have also been advanced by some makers, there is a little stronger tone in qualities of wool used in their manufacture. While carpe wool is now used in cheap clothes, blankets, hosiery and even in some underwear, it is thought that current prices may be sustained before long by an advance of 2½ cents in prices of lingrain carpets."

In Southern California wools there is In Southern California wools there is absolutely nothing doing, and no sales are being made.

NEW INCORPORATIONS. Articles NEW INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Fairmount Water Company, an organization to develop and deal in water and water rights, with the principal pface of business at Los Angeles. The five directors are: E. E. Crosby and W. H. Crosby of Racine, Wis.; W. T. Clapp and H. C. Howe of Pasadena and E. M. Durant of Los Angeles. The capital stock is $50,000, divided into 1000 shares of the par value of $50 each. The amount actually subscribed is $30,000.

MINING MATTERS. The craze the London and Paris exchanges for South African mining stocks seems to have momentarily diverted the atte tion of capitalists and speculators from American mining properties. Another American mining properties. Another reason for the neglect shown to the latter is assigned to the inclination on the part of capitalists to patronize the stock exchanges rather than to take part in the actual development of the mines. In an article on the present mining outlook in Southern California, Land and Water says: "Another great drawback to our mining interests here is the lack of unity of action among the mining brokers. They all seem jealous of each other, and as a natural consequence many a deal falls through because of unsavory hints dropped by a rival broker."

But what is needed above all is the establishment of reduction works here in Lo. Angeles. If rich ore, which lies scattered in all directions in Southern California, is ever to be fully developed, it will only be when works of this kind have been constructed. It would be a paying institution from the start, and be the means of opening up many a good mine and bringing additional wealth into the country. wealth into the country

CHANGES IN FRANCE. C. W. Chancellor, United States Consul at Havre, draws, in one of his reports to the State Department, a sad picture of the change which has taken place in France within the last quarter of a century through the increase in drunkenness. So long as the people confined their drink to their own purelight wines they were probably the soberest on earth, but when the phylloxera got in its ravages in their vineyards, decreasing the output of the wines and leading to all sorts of wretched adulterations to supply the deficiency in quantity, they gradually took to strong drink in which brandy and absinthe seemed to have the preference.

In his report Consul Chancellor says: "Alcoholism is the great misfortune of the present day, and if the evil is not corrected. France, the country of sun-shine, of good wine and great gayety, will be changed into a nation of brutes by this ignoble vice." Another dark side of the question is that the increase of drunkenness is bringing increased insanity in its train. He says: "It is computed that in 1884 the number of insane persons in France had increased to 133 per 100,000 inhabitants; in 1885 the number had dincreased to 136, and it is fair to assume that the increase has progressed with an equal step since them, so that the number of insane in France at this time may be reckoned at 166 per 100,000 inhabitants, the in-crease being, it is said, in a direct ratio to the increased production and con-sumption of alcoholic drinks."

A strong effort is going to be made to

to the increased production and consumption of alcoholic drinks."

A strong effort is going to be made to induce the people to resume the consumption of claret and other light wines, the quantity produced now being about as great as is was before the vineyards were destroyed by the phylorem. The use of light wines as a beverage destroys the desire for alcoholic drinks. As a further means of suppressing the evil, it has been suggested that the question be taken up in the public schools in France, and that lessons on the disastrous effects of alcoholism be impressed on the minds of the scholars. The report closes, saying: "So long as wine was the cheapest drink to be had in France, it was a national and universal drink, and the people were a sober people; but when the bouilleurs de cru produced a pernicious brandy at a greatly-reduced price, in unlimited quantities, the character of the nation for sobriety was changed and drunkenness became the prevailing habit among the lower and middle classes."

Shares and Money. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) NEW YORK, Nov. 25. — The stock narket today was an Industrial market

The total transactions in those secur itles footed up 135,000 shares out of a total of 202,500, recorded. The Industrials also scored the only important loss in prices. The railroad list did not respond to the weakness in the other market, being favored by moderate purchases of the international shares for foreign account, and by reassuring advices as to the progress of the settlement upon the London Stock Exchange. Other bull arguments on the railway list includes estimates of a smaller amount of gold to go out this week than has been figured on, owing to an increased supply of cotton bills and encouraging railroad exhibits. The strength of the rates of sterling exchange continued heavier, and in the best-informed circles it is confidently expected that shipments of gold will be made on Wednesday. With hardly an exception all of the railroads making exhibits of earnings for the third week in October reported increases. In the Industrials Sugar absorbed about one-half of the dealings. The market opened dull, with the only feature weakness in the Industrials and a firm undertone to the railway list with the influences previously noted. After 11 o'clock fractional railles occurred all around until a further bear raid drove prices to the lowest og the day. For the rest of the day, up to the closing, the speculation was dull and heavy in tone, except for the railroads. The final sales showed losses of 2% in Tobacco, 1½ in Sugar, % in Distilling. These stocks left off at the lowest of the day. Trading in bonds today was dull, the sales aggregating $889,000.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—There was no particular change in cattle, and the market was steady and moderately active; good to choice fat beeves, averaging from 1200 to 1300 pounds, selling the best. Native beeves were salable at 3.10@3.85. Exporters have become light buyers, and their purchases last week were only 2200 head, against 2445 the preceding week, and 3365 the corresponding week last year. Supplies of stock cattle have become lessened since Westerns have stopped coming in good numbers. Butchers' and canners' stuff ruled fairly active and steady, cows selling largely at 1.85@2.85. Western rangers and Texans were steady and fairly active. There was a good demand for hogs from city packers to day, and, although competition from Eastern shippers continued light but stronger, some choice droves sold at an advance of 2½@5 cents per hundred pounds; sales ranged from 3.40@3.70. the bulk of the transactions being at 3.55@3.65. The range of prices was narrow and heavy; High and mixed weights sold close together. Pigs sold briskly, chiefly at 3.40@3.60. Common to prime sheep were at 2.80@2.90, the sales being largely at 2.50@3.00, with a few good enough to bring 2.80. Lambs were in demand at 3.00@4.00, with not many choice flocks on sale. Western shippers are becoming scarcer.

The Orange Crop. Chicago Live Stock Market.

The Orange Crop.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—A local paper prints the following: "From 6,000,000 to 100,000 boxes is a big reduction. Yet that represents the gap made by last winter's frosts be-tween the output of the Florida orange gap made by last winter's frosts between the output of the Florida orange crop two years ago and the one that will be harvested the present season, as estimated by F. A. Balley of this city, who has grown oranges in Florida for twenty years. While the falling off in the crops is enormous, said Mr. Batley, 'it will not affect the price to the consumer. Last winter two freezes descended upon Florida. Men who had made fortunes in orange-growing, were utterly cut off from making any revenue from oranges for from five to seven years. However, many of them went to Jamaica, where the orange crop is enormous, and bought everything in sight. Expert gatherers and packers were sent into the island and some to Mexico, where orange crops were bought cheaply. The result is that the deficit in the Florida orange crop will hardly be felt by consumers. The Jamaica and Mexican oranges are coming into the markets by the thousands, and boxes labeled "choice Florida oranges" are seen every day. The payment of duty on this fruit will be offset by great cheapness in harvesting."

THE FIRST DAY'S PROGRAMME FOR THE BICYCLE MEET.

A Rock-pile Being Made Beady at Santa Ana for the Hobos-Prominent Farmer Dropped Dead-News Notes and Personals.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 25—(Regular Correspondence.) A few of the bicycle enthusiasts arrived in Santa Ana to-Correspondence.) A few of the bicycle enthusiasts arrived in Santa Ana today, and they pronounce the track at Athletic Park to be "A-one." There is no doubt about it, if the weather is favorable, some of the present world's records will surely be fractured, and they may be broken all to pieces. The greatest detriment that is likely to be in the way of record-smashing is a stiff coast-baceze in the afternoon. This, if it blows briskly, will lessen time several seconds to the mile. However, the breeze has been very mild the past day or two, and the lovers of good sport here are hoping that it will so remain until after Wednesday and Thursday. The races for the first day (Wednesday) are to be as follows:

First race, one-mile novice: First prize, gold medal, value $10.

Second race, one-third mile open, class B: First prize, diamond, value $50; second prize, stop watch, value $40; second prize, opera glasses, value $15; third prize, opera glasses, value $15; third prize, opera glasses, value $15; third prize, lamp, value $5.

A FRIGHTFFUL RUNAWAY.

A FRIGHTFUL RUNAWAY. A FRIGHTFUL RUNAWAY.

Arthur Lyon had a frightful runaway on Bast Fourth street about noon today (Monday.) His horse became frightened at the dog-show parade and prooseded at once to make matters intercesting. Leaving the street soon after he started, he ran into a dooryard betweet two small children playing on the lawn, and, barely missing them, he plunged over a barbed-wire fence, bringing the buggy after him with such a violent jerk that Mr. Lyons was sent flying up in a convenient apricot tree some twenty feet away. Tearing loose from his fastening, the horse then sped away across lots at a terrific gait, until finally captured by a score or more of men and boys who gave chase. The buggy was reduced to kindline woodbut Mr. Lyons escaped with a dozen orbuggy was reduced to kindling with a dozen of more painful although not serious scratches and bruises.

THE HOBOS' ROCK PILE.

The rock has arrived and teams have been busy all day hauling the same up from the depot to the jall lot, where it is being unloaded inside the inclosure, to be broken by the tramps who are serving time for vagrancy.

At the present time there are twenty-three members of the chain gang, and more are dropping in almost every day. Six were received today (Monday.) two from Anaheim and four from Orange. The Grange gang thought the sympathizing public could be worked, so when they were brought before the local justice of the peace they demanded a jury trial. It was given them, and a verdict was rendered instanter that each of the four prisoners should go to the County Jail for thirty days, and they fusther recommended that work should be provided for them on the the-County Jail for thirty days, and they further recommended that work should be provided for them on the rock pile. This seemed to stun the weary wagglers for a brief space of time, but they soon recovered, and now they are languishing in the county bas-tile awaiting the opportunity to begin pounding rock, which opportunity will be afforded them about Wednesday of

AZUSA VALLEY.

AZUSA, Nov. 25.—(Regular Correspondence.) The three rifle teams of this valley met at the rifle range at Azusa last Saturday in a contest for the pennant held by the Azusa team so long. The score stood as follows: Glendora, 730; Azusa, 714; Covina, 686. The shoot was witnessed by a large crowd, notwithstanding the stormy outlook. The Azusa and Covina teams will now have to go to Glendora until the silk banner can be carried away by a victory.

The Earl Fruit Company has a large force packing oranges at Azusa. Today they are packing the fourth carload and will have seven en noute to the East by Saturday. The fruit was grown in the feothill orchards at Glendora, and is unusually mature and highly colored for this time of the year. It is practically a month earlier than oranges were ever before shipped in carload lots from this section. It is understood the oranges are bringing extra fancy prices.

The hearing of the petition for the in-corporation was delayed two weeks, be-cause of the time set (last Thursday) was not two weeks from the date of the first publication. The matter will come up again as soon as possible, and it is hoped it will be settled with reason-able satisfaction to all.

The Woodmen of the World are in a flourishing condition here, and, although organized only a month, have a working force of forty members.

The article in The Times of today, headed "Called a Fraud," seems to touch the people of this valley pretty closely, as two of the incorporators of the United Indemnity Company are said to be working this community at the present time, and a Loa Angeles gentleman informed us today that it is believed one of the principals in the fraud lives at Axusa. This Indemnity Company has been declared fraudulent by the postal authorities at Washington, and The Times has done our people a favor in sounding the alarm, though no victim of these sharps is known to have been secured here. It is safe to say that the confederate referred to has no standing in this community.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 25.—(Regular Correspondence.) Lodge Masons went to Colton and were entertained by the members of the fraternity in that city.

The occasion of the banquet Friday night was the raising of T. J. Kennard of Redlands to the Illustrious Order of the Red Croes. After work at Masonic Hall the knights adjourned to the New St. Charles, where a spread was in waiting, and which is entitled to rank very high among the notable banquets given in this city. Landlord Day had not only ransacked the market for delicacies, but the manner of serving the banquet, the decorations of table and dining-room and all attendant circumstances were so elaborate that the Sir Knights were fairly amazed.

Among those who attended were: W. S. Builis, E. C.; M. B. Terrass, George E. Burrall, E. D. Roberts, F. R. Bright of Colton, A. P. Morse, W. L. G. Soule, J. Poundstone and J. F. Drake of Redlands, J. F. Frame of Morena, Maj. J. W. F. Diss, D. K. Camp, Capt. E. E. Smith, H. C. Howland, D. T. Brummett, H. H. Knotts, C. F. Lape, J. S. Kerr, J. K. Schermerhorn of this city and T. J. Kennard of Redlands.

On Saturday evening a party of Masons from this city paid a fraternal visit to Colton to meet with the lodge in that city and to meet Grand Lecturer W. E. Sloan of the Grand Lodge. A banquet was one of the features of the svening, and a thoroughly good timg was the net result of the trip. Thisse going from this city were: Judge H. C. Rolfe, P. M.; M. B. Terrass, M.; J.F. Johnson, Jr., S. W.; Walter Hubbard, J. W.; Andrew Park, S. D.; H. C. Howland, J. D.; Capt. E. Smith, T.; F. G. Leiseuring, L. A. Boyce, Henry Wagnori, George H. Plerce, D. P. ORANGE CROP SAFE.

Although last night was very threatening and the coldest of the present winter, the mercury registered four degrees above the danger mark, and the orange crop is still safe, for in the orange district it is several degrees warmer than in the city. The lowest point reached during the night, according to the signal-service thermometer, was just a shade below 30 deg. Fahr., so Dr. Johnson reports, and that is easily four degrees above the point that necessitates ben-fires along the north side of the orchards.

Saturday and yesterday both had a good deal of "tingle" in the air, and Saturday evening was so cool that people hunted up fura and winter clothing, and put an extra stick of wood on the fire. Third street presented the appearance of a promenade in cities where they hang the Thanksgiving turkey out and let it freeze to make it "tender," but a look at the mercury was reassuring. The lowest record for the night was 39 deg., but the breeze from the snow drifts which are scattered from "Old Baldy" to Greyback, put more life and vim into the air than anything experienced yet this season.

Last night was considerably colder, however, and the air was as still and breathless as a summer evening, all of which caused more apprehension of the damage which Jack Frost might do when he came stealing down from the mountains during the night. The result shows, however, that, although there was quite a bit of lee in this city, there was no real damage.

In Redlands the mercury did not get below 37% deg., and at Highland, under the shadow of the mountains, 40 deg. was registered. So long as the mercury goes no lower, orchardists are well pleased, and in two weeks they will begin to market the largest crop of the best fruit ever grown in Southern California.

The trouble between the Hesperis The trouble between the Hesperia Land and Water Company and the settlers along the Mojave River culminated last week in the arrest of R. L. Cook at the instance of the company, and it is reported that another rancher named Welsh is wanted. They are charged with appropriating the company's water.

Cook was arrested Friday and taken to Ontario, where for some reason the complaint had been sworn out. He subsequently gave bonds and was released, and there the matter stands, no further steps having been taken by either side.

leased, and there the matter stands, no further steps having been taken by either side.

The matter came up in another form this morning in a petition filed with the Board of Supervisors, asking that the matter of, water rates be taken up and adjusted. But this was a new question for the Board of Supervisors to settle, and the members were even in doubt if they had the right to take any action whatever.

In order to be sure of their position the matter was disposed of by referring the petition to the District Attorney, and instructing him to investigate the position of the board. If it has any right to consider the petition, some action will be taken. The petition is signed by about twenty-five residents of the district affected.

The exact situation at Hesperia is very difficult to discover. There are charges and counter charges, but the only fact which is unquestioned is that the Hesperia Land and Water Company has refused to continue to furnish water to setlers at the same rates which were formerly obtained. It is claimed on the part of the company that the ranchers have been apropriating water, and it is stated that it is to prevent this that complaints have been sworn out.

The settlers allege far different reason in explaining the situation. They claim they are competitors in the sale of wood, and that the action of the company is in the nature of a "freeze out." The ranchers must have water, and their only course of supply is contested by the company. If this is not available, the competition of the ranchers in the wood business is soon disposed of. This is the statement of the case made by R. L. Cook, who was arrested Friday.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

PLENTY OF SPORTS ANNOUNCED FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

Baseball, Bicycle Rac Electric-power Plants Received by the City Trustees—Paying County Taxes.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 25.—(Regular Correspondence.) With the sports now fully prepared for, Thanksgiving day will be entirely taken up with events.
The contests at Athletic Park will be spirited, and those who attend will feel well repaid. The lacrosse teams and well repaid. The lacrosse teams are getting in good trim, and, while both are local aggregations, the game will be full of ginger. From these two teams will be selected the members who will represent Riverside in a contest with a Los Angeles team for a trophy. A dozen new sticks have just been received from Canada, and the gate receipts will go toward paying for them. RASEBALL GAME. BASEBALL GAME.

"Cobb's Colts" are practicing daily, and the boys intend to put up the game of their lives in their contest with the Francis Wilsons of Los Angeles in the afternoon of the day. The familiar figure of Cal Merrill will be seen holding down the first bag, while Pete Loh-man, who is well known to the cranks, will be behind the bat for the local team. Cobb's arm is in good shape and he says the Riverside nine will win the game. This is pretty positive proof that the contest will be a great one, as the Los Angeles nine is made up of the best that city affords. The other mem bers of the Riverside nine not named are playing winning ball, and all have improved in batting since the last game. The game will be called promptly at 2 p.m. The names of the players and positions are:

Immediately after the ball game will follow two bicycle races, one a mile handicap for boys under sixteen and the other a two-mile handicap for class-A riders. Arthur Perris, the fifteen-year-old wonder from San Bernar-dino, paced by a tandem, will establish a track record for boys. Much interest is manifested in the boys' race and there is much speculation as' to who will be the winners. Dark horses are hinted at, and as there are a dozen entries, some pretty racing may be looked for. The following is a list of the names of those entered, and the handicaps: L. Wilbourn, Walter Russell, Clarence Frey, scratch; Eddie Cowan, Davy Mills, 20 yards; Arthur Taylor, 30 yards; Pete Jensen, 35 yards; Willie Mills, John Drummond, Howard Kiser, 60 yards; Charlie Clarke, 80 yards. No prizes will be given in this race, as the boys do not want to affect their amateur standing, but they will partake of an oyster supper at the pariors of R. H. Mathews in the evening.

A number of prizes have been donated for the two-mile handicap class-A as follows: Pair quick-repair road tires, value $12: bicycle sweater, V. D. Noble, a track record for boys. Much interes Mrs. Mary Emma Norwood, daughter of Joseph Craig, died at the residence of the latter yesterday afternoon, after an illness of only three days' duration. Physicians were first called in Thursday, but the malady completely batified them and they were unable to learn the nature or to stay the progress of the disease.

Mrs. Norwood had lived in San Bernardino twenty-two years. She was a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., where she was born October 22, 1856. With her parents she came to California in 1859, first settling in Trinity county, where they resided until 1873, when the family came to San Bernardino. She was married in 1879, and leaves two sons, Edward P., aged 10, and Joseph C., aged 9 years.

It is a notable fact that hers is the first death in the Craig family since before her birth. There is now living the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Craig, seven children and eight grand-children, and this is the first break in the family circle in forty years.

PAYING TAXES.

This being the last day to collect taxes before the penalty for delinquency will be added, there is a great rush at the County Tax Collector's office, and Mr. Woodward and his corps of assistants are kept very busy in taking in the cash and handing out the receipts. The amount received during the six days of last week was $53,609.90. Saturday the receipts being more than $15,800. It is thought that the receipts today will run up well toward $25,000.
